Trip Reflection and Next Adventure

Start with what you enjoyed. Identify a few useful changes while the experience is fresh, and give each traveler room to contribute.

Trip, dates, and travelers

What we enjoyed and want to repeat

What made the trip harder than it needed to be

What the receipts taught us about the budget

One skill or routine we will improve before the next trip

Equipment or maintenance issue to resolve before departure

Next destination, length of stay, and what appeals to us

Next action, responsible person, and date

If this is your first trip plan, leave the reflection questions blank until you return. Add one unfamiliar element at a time as your confidence grows.
